

HARDING STATEMENT MAY INDICATE EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS

Republicans Declare Attitude Of Senator On German Peace Forecasts Calling Of Congress In Session If Elected.

NO DOUBT LEFT AS TO LEAGUE PURPOSE

Calls Attention To Expected Demand For Revision Of Tariff To Meet G. O. P. Doctrine Of Protection For American Industries.

Marion, O., July 24.—The statement that he would approve a declaration of peace with Germany as soon as it could be presented to him by congress, made by Senator Warren G. Harding in his speech accepting the Republican nomination for the presidency indicates, in the judgement of Republicans here, extra session of congress after March 4, next. The position taken by the Republican party on the league of nations covenant, and approved by Senator Harding leaves no doubt of the Republican purpose to defeat finally the Wilson league. Congress will be urged to declare peace and to repeal war laws.

This program depends, of course, on the election of Senator Harding and of a Republican congress. Friends of Senator Harding do not think he would call congress in extraordinary session unless there was a Republican majority in house and senate each.

That the extra session is contemplated by Republicans generally is evidenced by a telegram received by the senator from Congressman C. Bascom Slemmons of Virginia, congratulating the senator on the speech of acceptance. Slemmons wired: "All eastern newspapers interpret speech as calling for an extra session. This will undoubtedly be approved."

Senator Harding called attention, also, in his speech to an expected demand for a revision of the tariff to meet the Republican doctrine of protection for American industries. Besides the peace declaration and repeal of war laws the extra session would take up the task of demolishing the untried Underwood Simmons Democratic tariff law and of framing and enacting a Republican tariff law in its stead.

PROMINENT COLUMBIA WOMAN INVOLVED IN SOCIETY SCANDAL

Name Withheld Account Of Two Children Of Woman.

Columbus, O., July 24.—A "prominent Columbia woman" is involved in a society scandal.

For the purpose of protecting the woman's 18 year old daughter and 21 year old son, Assistant U. S. Attorney Ford here is withholding the woman's name from the public. Acting upon the information furnished by the husband, who said his wife had received money from, and then was enticed to join, Carl J. Alf, federal officials have arrested Alf on a white slave charge at Portland, Oregon.

In order to eliminate necessity of calling the woman as a witness and to avoid placing her under arrest, Alf will be brought before a federal grand jury here and plead guilty after indictment, according to Attorney Ford.

Alf formerly lived here. He was employed as a soap maker. During the recent world war he was registered as an enemy alien.

According to stories reaching here from Freeborn the men were handling coal from the mouth of the mine which is on the Kentucky side of the river to the railroad tracks in West Virginia when the firing began.

SEEKS SOLUTION OF IRISH CRISIS; TALK HOME RULE

Lloyd George Addresses Committee Of Workmen On Matter.

WOULD ACCEPT TRUCE

Prediction Made That Situation Will Grow Worse Shortly.

London, July 24.—Proposals are before the British government which are tantamount to granting dominion rule to South Ireland if the Central and Southern provinces remain part of the British empire and defense against external aggression is left in the hands of the British government. The Times stated today.

By dominion government is meant home rule such as Canada enjoys.

South Ireland would be unrestricted as to customs, excise and finance. The six counties of Ulster province would remain as they are at present or would be allowed their own dominion government separate from the south.

London, July 24.—Premier Lloyd George told a deputation of the parliamentary committee of the trades union congress that he was as anxious as any man to see the Irish question settled on a basis acceptable to the majority of the Irish people.

The premier declared the government was not afraid to accept a truce, but that it could not permit overt outrages and murders. It was prepared to go a long way to let Ireland manage her own affairs if the necessary assurance was forthcoming, he said. He suggested that labor could use its influence to secure settlement.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, in the course of a debate on Irish affairs in the house of commons appealed to all parties and creeds to support the government, predicting the situation would become still worse than at present. "There never was a time," he added, "when the Irish executive, the British cabinet and the house of commons were more desirous of settling this age-long Irish question, and we are ready to welcome representation from every quarter as to the best method of solution."

Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, after declaring that "in three-quarters of Ireland the British government has been entirely beaten," said: "There are only two courses open for solution—either surrender to the Irish republic or organization of forces to insure the government is not beaten again." He asserted that what he had done in Ulster in the past he would do again.

Fourteen persons were killed during the rioting at Belfast and 100 wounded. There were fresh attacks between the Unionists and Sinn Feiners, with military intervention.

The Russian force that captured Grodno moved southward and occupied Bielsk. The Russians forced crossing of the Nieman and Szczara rivers. Slonim and Rzeczka, southeast of Grodno were taken by the Russians.

Warsaw reports the repulse of violent Russian attacks along the southern end of the front, although the assaults were delivered with superior numbers.

SHORTAGE OF COAL CLAIMS ATTENTION OF FEDERAL AGENTS

Ban On Exports May Follow Failure Of Priority Orders.

Washington, July 24.—Coal shortages reported already in existence in some sections of the country and threatened in many others claimed the attention of nearly half a dozen government departments and agencies.

The interstate commerce commission was urged to order priority in the movement of coal to New England and Illinois operators renewed their appeal to the white house for governmental intervention in the mine laborers' strike, which is reported to have closed down half of their mines. Relief for New England was promised through early action of the commission. The appeal of the Illinois operators was answered by the dispatch of three government labor conciliators to the strike districts.

Attorney General Palmer, after a conference with coal men, announced he had called an informal meeting of a score of mine operators, coal exporters and representatives of manufacturing interests to be held in New York Tuesday. Discussion of the coal situation at this conference, Mr. Palmer said, would be "thorough," adding: "It is our purpose to consider the general situation with a view to obtaining the advice and assistance of business men with respect to existing conditions in the coal industry."

The president still may employ his war powers in remedying menacing conditions and it was indicated these powers might be called into use in laying a ban on exports should the priority orders of the interstate commerce commission fail to bring satisfactory results. This phase will be taken up at the New York meeting along with discussion of prices, transportation problems and production.

FIRE NEAR ALLIANCE DESTROYED SEVERAL STORES; LOSS BIG

Sebring Scene Of Disastrous Blaze Saturday.

Alliance, O., July 24.—Fire starting in Sebring, three miles east of Alliance, at 3 o'clock this morning, destroyed the buildings occupied by the Herman Dry Goods Company, the Ohio State Telephone Company, the Sebring Times, the McKinley Confectionery store, a restaurant and pool room. The Sebring bank and several other buildings on the opposite side of the street were damaged.

The Sebring fire department attempted to fight the blaze with chemicals, but it soon was beyond their reach. Two pumping trucks were sent from Alliance, but they could not be used because of a lack of water.

The Herman company estimates its loss at $6,000, and other losses may bring the total to $150,000. The fire started from an unknown cause in a Chinese laundry.

DOCTORS PUZZLED OVER ILLNESS OF CLEVELAND WOMEN

Thirty Eight Women Are Sick; Physicians Are Baffled.

Cleveland, O., July 14.—Cleveland's best physicians are puzzled today over the mysterious malady which has attacked and made seriously ill thirty-eight society women of this city and its suburbs. All attempts at an authoritative diagnosis have failed.

Physicians agree that the illness is some form of typhoid fever but are unable to make a definite diagnosis as to its exact form or to assign a positive cause. Health authorities and many private physicians are continuing rigid investigations.

The thirty-eight women who are seriously ill and many others who have been made slightly ill were guests at a luncheon given on June 25 at the home of Mrs. George S. Case in Lakewood, a suburb. They were served, according to Mr. Case, with sandwiches, ice cream and chicken salad. The caterer who served the food has been investigated and approved.

Although many of the women have been ill for a week or more it was not until a large number of cases similar in character aroused the curiosity and interests of physicians that an investigation was made. It was then found that all of the women suffering from the peculiar malady, had been guests at the Case luncheon.

One theory that is being investigated is that the disease may have been communicated by some person connected with the serving or the preparation of the food who is what physicians call a "typhoid carrier." It is thought possible also that the disease may have been carried to the victims through the cream served with the coffee or the lettuce used in the salad.

One feature that is puzzling physicians and health authorities is that, while several men attended the luncheon, not one of them was made ill.

OPPOSITION TO RATE INCREASE OF RAIL TRANSPORTATION UP

Employees Reported Opposed To New Fare Rates.

Washington, July 24.—Opposition is developing to increased passenger, freight, baggage and Pullman rates asked by railroads. The railroads, in a petition filed with the interstate commerce commission, said they needed the higher rates to meet the $600,000,000 wage award granted workers. Opponents of the proposed raises will try to show that they are unnecessary and that increased freight rates asked several weeks ago are sufficient for railroad needs.

Organized railroad employees themselves may join the effort to prevent the increase. It is known that the employees have collected information which they say would justify charges that the roads are now running up a big bill of expense to show the necessity of increased revenue. Once the railroads get the increase, however, the union heads anticipate that thousands of men will be laid off and other economy measures taken, according to John Scott, secretary of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor.

POSTPONE CUP RACE UNTIL MONDAY ON ACCOUNT OF WINDS

Resolute Defeats Lipton Boat In Friday's Contest.

Aboard U. S. S. Goldsborough off Sandy Hook, N. J., July 24.—(Via Wireless).—The deciding race between Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's big green challenger, and Resolute, America's cup defender, was today postponed until Monday owing to high winds.

The big yachts were at the starting point and ready to go when the regatta committee flashed the signal calling the race off for the day.

BROWN'S WORDS

No Provision in Covenant For Self Determination of Europeans.

Cleveland, July 24.—Walter F. Brown of Toledo, Republican candidate for United States senator, discussing the league of nations here, said the present covenant makes no provision whatever for the self-determination of European peoples. "The letter of article 10 guarantees the present territorial integrity of European nations against foreign aggression only," declared Mr. Brown, "but the spirit of article 10 clearly for all time guarantees the status quo of Europe. The world progress depends finally upon the self-determination of peoples. But for the principle of self-determination there would be no America today. We can not enter a league of nations which denies the right of self-determination of European people without destroying our own nationalism and forever extinguishing the light which America has kindled for the world."

POLAND ISSUES APPEAL TO U.S. FOR MORAL AID

Armistice Signed After Reds Cross Border and Poles Make Appeal.

TERMS NOT KNOWN

Defense Of Warsaw Begins as Russians Advance Troops.

London, July 24.—An armistice agreement has been reached between the two commanders of the Russian and Polish armies in the field and it is understood that fighting in the Russo-Polish theatre of war ceases immediately, according to official telegrams received here today.

It was stated, however, that the full terms of the armistice may not be reached by Moscow and Warsaw for several days.

The Allies will not be represented in any way in the armistice negotiations. It was stated in official circles. British officials said that the final and complete terms may not be received here until an agreement is reached and signed by the Polish and Russian government representatives.

A dispatch received via the Central News early in the day said that the Poles were shortening their battle line for the better defense of Warsaw.

Washington, July 24.—Seriously menaced by the Bolshevik armies, Poland has called upon the United States for moral support in her now desperate battle with the soviet forces.

Through its legation here the new republic not only asked for an expression from the state department, but also from President Wilson, declaring that such public statements would go a long way toward strengthening the morale of its soldiers and people.

Poland's request was given serious consideration at the state department, and it was expected that a decision would not be long delayed. Whatever the ultimate decision, there were indications of their sympathy with the Polish republic.

It was recalled that the American government had steadfastly refused to recognize the soviet regime and that less than two years ago the state department requested the allied and neutral nations to join in declaring the Bolshevik international outlaw.

DATE OF PLAY IN CHAUTAUQUA IS CHANGED TO MONDAY

Monday will be the big day as well as the final day of the program being given here by the Redpath Chautauqua.

In order not to have "It Pays to Advertise" appear here on Sunday, the Chautauqua management has changed the time of the play as given on the program on Monday night instead. Replacing it on Sunday, will be addresses by two prominent ministers. Dr. Scherger, who is an associate of Dr. Gunsaulus of Chicago, will appear Sunday afternoon and Dr. MacGowan whose lecture "The Creed of the Flag" is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, will be on the Sunday evening program.

The change necessitates that the bill for Monday be doubled up and thus a much larger and more attractive program is offered. Monday afternoon George E. Roberts will present his "Pamashaska's Pets"—forty unique entertainers, including domestic and tropical birds, house cats, dogs, a monkey comedian and "Prince Tiny" and educated pony. On the same afternoon program Monday Ethel Hinton, the real "Joy Germ" of the Chautauqua, who is scheduled for Monday evening, will appear. Miss Hinton, who has been called "The Sunshine of Chautauqua," will present "Her College Gang." Her dialect stories, humorous character songs and impersonations are particularly entertaining.

"It Pays to Advertise" one of the funniest of modern comedies will be presented Monday night alone. There are nine people in the production, which is staged in three acts. The play is rated as one of the biggest of the week's attractions.

the week's entertainment. Saturday afternoon and night, Dunbar's Royal Dragoons will hold the center of the stage, furnishing the attraction both afternoon and evening. This capable company of music makers presents a versatile repertoire that makes them popular with all classes.

An Honor to the Dead

A Credit to the Living

XENIA SWELTERS IN HOTTEST DAY OF THIS SUMMER

The weather man came out on the front porch Friday and hung the annual "hottest day" up in a conspicuous place.

Sweltering Xenians testified readily that Friday took the blue ribbon for all forms of heat without bothering to look at the thermometer. They knew it was hot Friday without receiving a formal statement from old man Fahrenheit.

As a matter of fact the mercury was wildly rampant the better part of the July day, and registered from 94 to 96 degrees according to the optimism or pessimism of the observer. The hottest period was around two o'clock in the afternoon.

The intense heat like the sun disappeared in the evening but the old earth was cooked so fiercely during the day that heat by radiation made the night miserable for all who tried to sleep. Saturday morning, a sultry world woke up. The glass said 74 degrees Saturday morning which is about three degrees hotter than the temperature Friday morning early.

The next hottest day of year in this vicinity was June 15 when the temperature recorded was 91 degrees. Since then unusually cool weather has served to throw citizens off their guard.

POSSES OF FARMERS SEEK GIRL'S SLAYER NEAR FATHER'S FARM

Twelve Year Old Child
Found Strangled To Death.

Pottsville, Mich., July 23.—Patrols composed of members of the American legion and posses of farmers armed with pitchforks scoured this locality today in a hunt for the slayer of twelve years old Beatrice Haddock, whose body was found Thursday in a deserted lane at the rear of her father's farm near Pottsville.

The child was strangled after she had carried a drink of water to her brother, who was cultivating a field some distance from the farmhouse. Her ace was beaten almost beyond recognition, her murderer apparently having used a heavy stone.

The brother declared that he saw "a strange, tall man" climbing over a fence near the scene of the murder a few minutes after his sister left him to return to the farm house. This man is being hunted in connection with the slaying.

Two shots took effect in the older boy's face, and it is feared he may lose the sight of one eye.

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF
EUGENE VIDOCQ
July 23rd, 1775

One of the most romantic characters of French history is Francois Eugene Vidocq, who was born in 1775, in the town of Arras, and whose adventures have formed the basis of a great many stories, both false and true.

Vidocq led an adventurous life until he was grown up and then he joined the army. He was sent to prison because of a quarrel with another soldier and while there became involved quite innocently in a forgery plot. He was sentenced to eight years of hard labor. Twice he escaped and twice he was recaptured, but the third time he got away successfully. He lived in Paris with a gang of thieves and finally decided to make use of the great mass of knowledge about criminals which he had collected while he was forced to live among them. He offered his services to the Paris police.

He was so good at this work that eventually he became chief of the city detectives, with a body of ex-criminals

CHERRY RECIPES.
Cherry Pie—Two and one-half cups of stoned cherries, one cup of sugar, two and one-half tablespoons of flour, one teaspoon of butter. Line a pie plate with crust, fill the crust with the cherries mixed with the sugar and flour. Dot the mixture with butter, cover it with a top crust and bake the pie in a hot oven for about thirty-five minutes. The oven should be hot for the first fifteen minutes, then the heat should be reduced to finish the baking.
Cherry Cake—Half cup of butter or shortening, one cup of bread crumbs, one-half cup of almonds, one-half cup of sugar, one-half cup of milk cinnamon, cloves.
Stone the cherries. Let the milk boil and melt the shortening in it. Blanch the almonds, run them through a food chopper and pound them to a paste. Mix the almond paste with the bread crumbs, sugar and a pinch each of cloves and cinnamon. Pour over the milk, mix and add the cherries. Bake the cake in a shallow pan for one hour in a moderate oven.

Cherry Sandwiches—These are dainty novelties for afternoon teas; select ripe cherries, remove the pits and cut into halves; sprinkle generously with powdered sugar and let stand for half an hour before making up. Then drain from the juice and place between thinly buttered bread and serve.
Cherry Toast—Delicately toast rounds of bread, then butter each one nicely; pit a pint of cherries; stew with two tablespoons of water and sufficient sugar to sweeten, until the fruit is tender; then while hot pour it over the toast in alternate layers of toast and fruit, place a merange over the top and lightly brown in a moderate oven. Serve hot.

Cherry Glace—Boil two pints of water and one of sugar together for fifteen minutes; then add two tablespoons of granulated gelatin; when cool add the juice of two lemons, the stiffly beaten white of an egg, four tablespoons of whipped cream. Put a little of this at a time into individual molds, when firm cover with sweetened, pitted cherries and another layer of the gelatin mixture. Continue in this way till the mold is filled. Chill and serve with whipped cream.

Cherry Betty—Two cups stoned cherries (chopped), two cups soft bread crumbs, ground cloves and cinnamon, two tablespoons butter. Butter a baking dish or casserole, put in a layer of the cherries, sprinkle with sugar and then with the spices, spread over a layer of the crumbs and continue until all is used, making the last layer of crumbs. Dot with the butter and sprinkle over a little sugar and spice, then cover and bake forty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Uncover to brown and serve half warm with hard sauce. If desired this pudding may be baked in individual ramekins.

He died in Paris when he was 82 years old and so poor he was almost a pauper.

A REDUCTION SUGGESTION

The hardest thing about reducing is overcoming the gnawing pangs of hunger the first few days of the new regime. It is here that the weaker-willed sisters fall—for sometimes, to be perfectly frank, the stomach keeps up its demands for quantities of food for weeks after a reduction diet is decided upon.

But, of course, if a woman prefers to go on growing larger and larger and feeling more and more uncomfortable in her clothes, and being restricted in her freedom of motion—all because she cannot tolerate a few week's discomfort—well, in that case, I can have nothing further to say. My suggestion today is not for that woman—it is for the woman who is going to reduce and is going to stick at it until she is as young and slender and graceful as she desires to be.

The suggestion is—when you feel this gnawing hunger, drink something. Drink a glass of cool water, or a glass of hot water with a little pinch of soda or salt in it. Or drink a wineglass of saffron tea three times a day; this satisfies some of the craving for food. Or, if it is morning or if you are not nervous, take a small cup of black coffee or a cup of weak tea with lemon and without sugar.

All these things help because they give the stomach something to do—and they do not nourish. Of course, while reducing you are not permitted anything to drink at meals, but between meals you can drink almost as much as you like.

If you suffer from gout or rheumatism you can drink a glass of hot water with a little bicarbonate of soda in it and be greatly benefited. It will be even better if you alternate and take water with a tablespoonful of lime juice in it between meals, especially when the desire for food is strongest.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

A NEW HOME CHAPTER 71.

I smiled when Mrs. Leary asked if Mary was like me. No two girls could be more unlike in every particular.

"No, Mrs. Leary," I replied, "Mary is a dear, good girl but we aren't at all alike. Then something told me perhaps I had better explain things a little tell her something of myself. She thought me 'different loike,' perhaps she feared to take me in. So I added:

"My father died, Mrs. Leary, and nothing was left for Mother and me, when everything was settled up there. We were very poor instead of having nearly everything we wanted, and—Dad, Mother is with a relative, and I am working so that some day we can have a home together."

"Glory be! I knowed you was somebody the minute I clapped me two eyes on ye. I knowed you aint been on workin' gils fer long. Not that workin' ever hurt no one. I'll put some tidies on the chairs, Miss, and fix things up for ye before night."

I thanked her, paid a week's rent in advance, then left to pack up, feeling I had found another friend. Just that little speech about fixing up the room, putting tidies on the chairs, had made me feel that she understood just a bit how hard things were for me.

Mrs. Lynch seemed awfully sorry to lose us. But I explained that it was necessary, without mentioning the cause. As our rent was paid until the end of the week, it would give her time to again fill our rooms, and stand in lieu of a notice.

"Shall I send your letters?" she asked.

"No—I'll come around occasionally, and see if there is any mail." My only correspondent was Mother, and I would write her at once, giving the changed address. If I left it with Mrs. Lynch, Mike and Joe might attempt to trace us.

That evening Mary and I spent arranging our rooms. I had also packed and moved Mary's things for her so that we might be settled before I commenced to work.

Mrs. Leary had been as good as her word. She had "fixed up" our rooms. As I saw the coarse lace tidies, the little attempts at beautifying the hopelessly ugly rooms, the tears filled my eyes.

"Ain't it nice and clean?" Mary asked delighted.

"Yes, and you see you keep it so!" I severely replied. Mary was far neater than when we first knew each other but was still inclined to be careless.

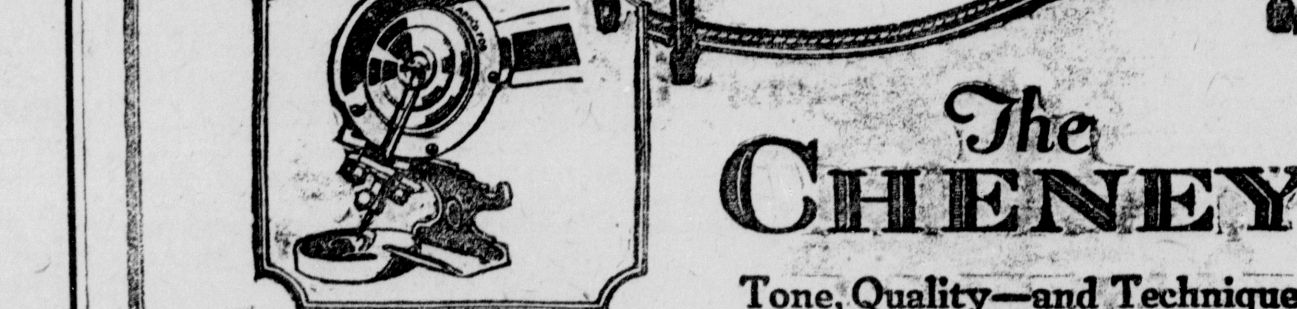

"You bet I will!" We spent a busy evening getting settled. About 9 o'clock Mrs. Leary, who was very stout came puffing up the stairs, with a pot of tea and some thin bread and butter on a tray. It was several minutes before she could get her breath so that she could speak, then:

boys do not like you. Of course neither I nor anyone else can tell you exactly how to become popular—that lies with yourself. Be sweet and natural and charming and above all be sympathetic. If there is any secret in popularity it is that—sympathy. Do you understand what I mean by it? You must like other people a lot. You must understand them, you must be in sympathy with what they are doing and what they are striving for. This is not a definition but perhaps from this you can see what I mean.
